Detailed Action

1. A copy of the priority papers, i.e., Japanese application 2000-364348, was received in parent case 09/986952.
2. The substitute specification has been approved. However the status of parent case 09/986,952 should be updated. This case is referenced in the cross-reference to related applications set forth by the preliminary amendment.
3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Bacchi et al '444.

Note 11 is synonymous with applicant's rotatable base, 92 is a first motor, 12 is a body, 80R is synonymous with applicant's first spindle, 50R is a second motor, 14R is a first arm, 62R is synonymous with applicant's second spindle, 22R is a second arm, 86R is synonymous with the third spindle, 30R is a third arm with the distal end synonymous with applicant's hand. Regarding applicant's control and straight line movement see figure 6 in Bacchi.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3652

6. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bacchi et al '444.

The algorithm set forth in this claim would be inherent in the arm movement in Bacchi since its hand moves along a straight line parallel to a line through the pivoted center 13.

7. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

8. Claims 5 and 6 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 2 of U.S. Patent No. 6,764,271. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant claims are broader and would prevent the practice of the patented invention once its patent term expired if allowed.
